Emma and Nobody

Eight-year-old Emma was inspired to help our kids by an innovative school challenge to improve lives with the help of Nobody, a featureless cloth doll.

Every kid in Emma's class had to choose a good cause to learn about and help. They each had to decorate the class Nobody doll with an item that represented their project making him a "somebody".

Emma chose to help our kids for her project. She learned about what we do for homeless youth and sent Nobody to spend time in our life skills program for youth with mental health issues, CREW.

Emma asked the kids at CREW to add a decoration to him and take pictures of him sharing a day with them. They made him a beautiful hand-crafted necklace. They were moved by the unusual efforts of this young girl to reach out to them.

With Nobody at her side, Emma raised over $250 in a community coin drive for our youth. Through the project, Emma learned the impact that empathy and engagement can have on transforming our world.
